A LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Samantha Johnson-Helms

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Welcome to the 2020-2021 Season! I could not be more excited and honored to join the Terre Haute Symphony as Executive Director this season. I have fallen in love with the Terre Haute community over the last 7 years since I joined the symphony as Principal Clarinet in 2013. It has been an absolute delight to move to the community with my husband, Cory, and get to know so many of our proud supporters.

I look forward to leading the THSO into a period of development and growth while remaining steadfast with our vision and mission to bring “Great Music! Close to Home.” It has been quite the undertaking to jump into the Executive Director role for a symphony orchestra during a pandemic, but I am excited to work closely with Artistic Director David Bowden, the Board of Directors, and my fellow musicians to innovate and remain intensely focused on providing virtual and live music for our community and the Wabash Valley.

I hope you enjoy our concert this evening and that it brings you a little peace and joy during this unprecedented time.

A letter from the President

TONYA BALCH BOARD PRESIDENT

Welcome to the 95th season of the Terre Haute Symphony! We are immensely proud to be the oldest professional symphony orchestra in the state of Indiana. Amidst the challenges of this pandemic, we remain committed to connecting with you in a variety of ways and are grateful for our time together this evening. We are excited that Terre Haute offers multiple venues to share live music, allowing our patrons and community members to enjoy the gift of music together.

For centuries, music has reached across boundaries and brought together individuals from a variety of backgrounds. It has the ability to transport us from our current reality to a place of relaxation, peace, and joy. Music, and all of the arts, positively contributes to individual and community wellness. Music connects us on an emotional level and allows us to collectively appreciate the talented musicians we will hear this evening. We are proud to bring “Great Music! Close to Home” to the Wabash Valley and have made it our top priority to continue our mission during the COVID-19 pandemic to help improve the quality of life and instill hope in our wonderful community.

David Bowden

ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

David Bowden has been the artistic leader of the Terre Haute Symphony Orchestra since 1997.

Born and raised in North Carolina, David has loved music since he was a very young child. He grew up listening to his mother teaching piano lessons in their home. At the age of 4, he talked her into teaching him piano. In addition to the piano, he has played clarinet, oboe, and organ.

Majoring in piano performance with a minor in organ at Wheaton College Conservatory of Music, David has a particular love for orchestral music that features piano and organ. Recordings of his concerts have been broadcast nationwide on National Public Radio's Performance Today and Public Radio International's Pipedreams. His commercial recording of Marcel Dupré's Complete Music for Organ and Orchestra (Naxos) received rave international reviews.

While a student at Wheaton, David met his wife, Donna, a registered nurse, during an intramural volleyball game. Graduate school took them to Bloomington, where David received his M.M. in Choral Conducting at Indiana University. After teaching in the college setting for several years, David returned to IU and earned a Doctor of Music in Orchestral Conducting.

David enjoys performing a wide variety of repertoire – from opera to symphonic standards to pops and country music. He especially enjoys educational concerts for schools, hoping to inspire children to choose to learn to play an instrument, believing that making music changes lives.

In addition to the Terre Haute Symphony, David is the Artistic Director and Conductor of the Columbus Indiana Philharmonic and the Philharmonic Chorus. He is a member of the Pi Kappa Lambda National Music Honor Society and has been listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in the World for the past twenty years. He has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Conductors Guild, an international service organization for conductors, and served as Director of the Conductor's Guild New Music Project for almost two decades.

David and Donna make their home in Bloomington and enjoy traveling and spending time with their children, grandchildren and extended families.

Cathy Berns Rund hails originally from a grain and cattle farm in central Illinois. Her passion for music grew through childhood piano lessons along with singing and playing organ at her tiny parish church.

She earned her undergraduate degree in vocal performance from Eastern Illinois University, where she won top musical and academic honors, including the prestigious Livingston C. Lord Scholarship. She was later honored as a “Distinguished Young Alumnus” of EIU.

Cathy then followed her eventual husband, Rex, to Haiti, where she taught piano and directed a well-known boys’ choir, Les Petits Chanteurs, in Port-au-Prince. This taste of the expatriate life whetted her appetite for more, and she won a Rotary International scholarship to study opera at the famed Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria. She worked with the legendary Mozart soprano Wilma Lipp on her way to winning the conservatory’s top prize for opera performance, the Lilli Lehmann Medallion. She was also a finalist in the European-wide Deutsche Rundfunk opera auditions. Upon graduation from the Mozarteum, she was engaged as a soloist for four years at the Vienna Staatsoper, one of the world’s elite opera houses, where she became Vienna’s favorite Papagena in Mozart’s The Magic Flute. She also appeared as an opera soloist in Monte Carlo and Oslo.

“...impeccable pitch and total control of her voice, spinning exquisite sounds even from the highest registers.”

Charles Webb
The Republic

Since returning to America, Cathy has used her musical talent mostly in God’s service as music director, cantor, and organist at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Lebanon. She has appeared as cantor for the principal Mass at the national convention of the National Association of Pastoral Musicians, leading over 3000 church musicians from around the world in worship and song. She has also appeared as a soloist in choir tours to Lourdes, León, Burgos, Santiago de Compostela, Fatima, Salzburg, Florence, Pisa, Siena, Assisi, and Rome, singing at Mass at St. Peter's Basilica with Pope Benedict XVI. For the past decade, Cathy has enjoyed numerous collaborations with David Bowden and the Columbus, Carmel and Terre Haute Symphony Orchestras, and has become an Indiana audience favorite.

CATHY BERNS RUND

Cathy and her husband take great pride and delight in their three children. They enjoy country life at their home near Lebanon, where they are avid gardeners, and Cathy, still a farm girl at heart, raises chickens for fresh eggs.
